The University of Saskatchewan's (USask) main campus is located along the kisiskaciwani-sipiy (South Saskatchewan River) in Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. This is a place that is part of a millennia-old tradition of people gathering on the banks of this river to learn, to teach and to form community.

At USask, you are encouraged to be yourself, to be heard and to create change. Culture, heritage, individuality and identity are celebrated in this community of more than 26,600 students from 134 countries around the world, including more than 3,300 self-declared Métis, First Nations and Inuit students.

Prepare for your future career and gain hands-on experience by joining USask's community of passionate leaders, protectors, disruptors, gamechangers, innovators and champions.

Your contribution is needed now and into the future.

Choose the University of Saskatchewan.

Indigenous Student Achievement Pathways (ISAP)

first-year learning community in the College of Arts and Science brings students with shared academic goals together in popular first-year courses and weekly gatherings with upper-year peer mentors. ISAP courses are taught by dedicated and culturally responsive instructors who put your learning first. ISAP students are eligible to apply for start-of-term textbook bursaries (valued at $300) and Peter Stoicheff ISAP First Year Achievement Scholarships (nine awards valued at $1,500).

Among more than 200 areas of study

you can choose from are these programs with an Indigenous focus:

- Indian Teacher Education Program (ITEP)
- Indigenous Business Administration
- Indigenous Governance and Politics
- Indigenous Languages (non-direct entry)
- Indigenous Studies
- Kanawayihetaytan Askiy certificate, "Let us take care of the land" and Indigenous Lands Governance and Indigenous Resource Management diplomas
- Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program (SUNTEP)
- Study of Indigenous Storytelling
- wicêhtowin Theatre

USask offers millions of dollars in scholarships and bursaries to students each year, including many designated for Indigenous students. Among these are the Circle of Honour Awards

(Best and Brightest Entrance Scholarships), valued up to $40,000, which are awarded based on academics, leadership and contributions to school and community life. Another featured award is the Indigenous Students with Dependent Children Bursary, which is awarded to all eligible applicants.

The Gordon Oakes Red Bear Student Centre is dedicated to supporting the personal, social, cultural, and academic success of Métis, First Nations and Inuit students. The centre is where you can connect with other students, participate in activities and events, and access culturally informed student resources including:

- Weekly Grounding Circle
- Elders and Knowledge Keeper Service
- Research and writing workshops, as well as English, math/stats and chemistry tutoring
- New Indigenous Student Welcome events, and monthly first-year check-ins
- Health and wellness programming, such as Fitness 4U
- Weekly soup and bannock meals co-hosted with other university programs and student services
- Annual events including Indigenous Achievement Week and the Métis New Year's Partii

Learn more about USask by booking a campus tour or by attending one of our annual events for future students. Open House, which takes place in September in Saskatoon and October in Prince Albert, is our invitation for you to explore life as a USask student. Métis, First Nations and Inuit students in high school have an additional opportunity to get to know the USask campus and community at Indigenous Student Experience Day, which is held in the spring.
